EPOS Partners up with AudioCodes

Copenhagen, Denmark – September 22, 2021. EPOS, the premium audio solutions brand for Enterprise, is delighted to announce a new partnership with AudioCodes, a leading vendor of advanced voice networking and media processing solutions for the digital workplace. The partnership delivers seamless device management via the EPOS Manager interface on AudioCodes' One Voice Operations Center (OVOC).

EPOS is proud to enter a partnership with AudioCodes – a leading player in connecting, integrating & managing UC. The EPOS Manager software integrates seamlessly with the AudioCodes One Voice Operations Center (OVOC), offering device management, EPOS device firmware updates and configuration, as well as actionable insights at scale. The OVOC integration provides users with an exclusive and simple experience that complements UC management with transparent and actionable device insights.

“We are proud of yet another major milestone – partnering up with AudioCodes to deliver a seamless EPOS device management experience on AudioCodes OVOC” said Theis Mørk, Vice President of Product Management at EPOS. “This new partnership underscores our commitment to helping enterprises accelerate device deployment and UC adoption.”

“AudioCodes is delighted to be partnering with EPOS. Customers will be able to enjoy the twin benefits of superb EPOS device quality together with AudioCodes centralised device management expertise to simplify and accelerate IT operations. A win win for customers on their UC journey.” Yossi Zadah, VP OVOC Business Line, AudioCodes.
