EPOS Is Excited to Announce Partnership and Product Certification with Swyx

Copenhagen, Denmark – August 24, 2021: EPOS, the premium brand for high-end audio solutions and innovative technology, is excited to announce it is partnering with Swyx, the leading software solution for smart telephony and Unified Communications in small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs).

This exciting new partnership ensures that EPOS's premium audio solutions work seamlessly with Swyx's award-winning telephony and Unified Communications solution. Swyx enables businesses to improve their processes and increase both accessibility and productivity. The UC specialist is part of Enreach, a European UCaaS and CCaaS leader providing collaboration technology and telecoms services. All EPOS IMPACT, ADAPT and Speakerphones are fully certified for SwyxIt! for Windows. This further certification with SwyxIt! makes a great addition to the full portfolio of EPOS headsets and conference devices already Swyx approved.

The Swyx test and quality team have also tested and approved the call control integration with SwyxIt! version 12. The devices have passed all the tests featured in the Swyx certification specification and are proven to work with the SwyxIt! client; ensuring our solutions work seamlessly with Swyx for call control through EPOS Connect.

"We are pleased and excited to be partnering with Swyx! The certification of our IMPACT Line, ADAPT Line and Speakerphones further demonstrates our commitment to working with new partners to produce end-to-end solutions that simply work, and helps our strategic partnerships in the DACH region to develop and grow further", Theis Mørk, Vice President, Global Product Management at EPOS.

"Swyx is thrilled to be partnering with EPOS, the premium enterprise and gaming audio brand. This exciting collaboration ensures that our customers have seamless access to their cutting-edge audio solutions in order to offer them even more possibilities to take communication in their organisation to a new level", says Martin Classen, Managing Director at Swyx and Chief Product Officer at Enreach.

About Swyx

Swyx develops software-based communication solutions for the requirements of medium-sized companies and distributes them via a two-tier system of distributors and specialist dealers. With Swyx's award-winning Unified Communications solution, users benefit from all the advantages of optimally networked communication: they can increase accessibility, improve processes and ultimately increase productivity. Swyx offers a unified range of functions across all deployment forms, regardless of whether it is an in-house solution, a variant from a partner cloud or SwyxON, the UC solution from Swyx's own cloud. A range of suitable phones and other hardware devices complete the product portfolio of the company founded in 1999, as a pioneer in the field of IP communications. Swyx is part of Enreach, one of the European UCaaS and CCaaS leaders. All Enreach businesses contribute to intelligent, integrated IT and communication solutions that ensure optimal communication and workflow between organisations. The group is active in over 25 countries and has 1040 employees working across 19 different European offices.
